

UMPIRES' SUPPORT AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

“to optimise the satisfaction levels of the players by supporting and developing competent officials”

Umpires' Support and Development

The ECB ACO education programme is available to all individuals interested in umpiring. There are currently three levels (a fourth is planned) covering the basics of umpiring through to the techniques required for those who aspire to umpire higher levels of cricket

This programme is only of interest for those who want their competency assessed which is why it is separate from the Education programme.

Accreditation level at the current of U1A (or working towards) is a minimum requirement of many leagues and to be considered for a Premier League, accreditation at U2A is a necessity.

All umpires can benefit from some form of support irrespective of their experience but for new and developing umpires it is essential. The programme involves the use of experienced umpires as mentors and coaches who can provide encouragement and guidance that will enable all umpires to improve their match management capabilities.

The ECB ACO Support and Development programme is designed to support all registered candidates gain recognition of their competence by meeting the required ECB ACO standards.

The Programme

Following extensive discussions and widespread consultation, a new programme of Support and Development will be introduced in 2019. The new scheme is less prescriptive and enables County ACOs to meet their own requirements.

The programme concentrates on self- assessment whilst working with a mentor. Candidates will identify their own issues, understand what they need to do to improve and this will help them develop the appropriate strategy to move forward.

A proportion of individual accreditations undertaken by County ACOs will be moderated by Regional Officers and the programme will be verified by an independent panel every two years.

To reflect the change in emphasis from performance to development, the responsible County and Regional Officer will become the Development Officer (CDO/RDO).

It is essential that the requirements of the new programme are communicated effectively to participants and as such the new programme will be outlined at the Regional Workshops in January /February 2019.

The RDOs will drive the implementation of the programme through their CDOs. CDOs will appoint suitable people to be mentors. Guidelines for mentors have been produced to assist – See Appendix 4

To align accreditation with education, Umpire 2 Accreditation (U2A) will follow stage 2 (replacing U1A) and Umpire 3 Accreditation (U3A) will follow on from stage 3 (replacing U2A); the requirements for Umpire 4 Accreditation (U4A) will be added when they are agreed.

The name change will be introduced immediately so 2018 accreditations will be updated accordingly.
